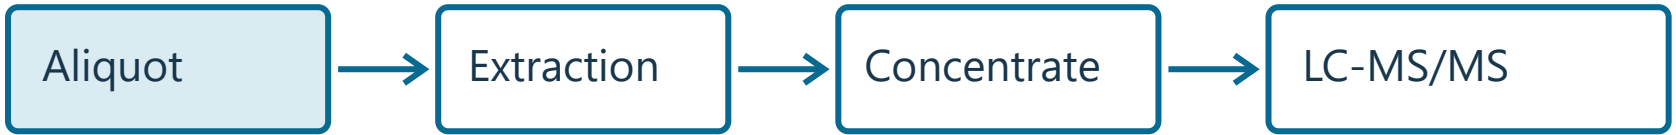
A: instrument-only repeats

B: independent complete preparations



The repeated procedure determines which sources of variation contribute to the result.